

SPONSOR OPPORTUNITIES

Comms Noire is excited to present Catching Tones, our first in-person training and networking event. Comms Noire is a new professional network that provides community, opportunities and training resources to Black social impact communications professionals. Through our growing talent base of creatives and strategists, we also offer communications consulting services and technical assistance to mission-minded organizations.

Consider supporting by sponsoring this event or by joining as a Comms Noire corporate member. Deadline to respond is June 30. Custom options available.
